Anticipated Liquidation Stampede in Wall Street Fails to Materialize.

EVIDENCE OF STABILITY

General Price Movement Irregular and Some Declines Are Noted-Interest Centers in Berlin Answer.

New York, April 29.—There was no public rush to sell stocks in the Wall Street market today, although the professional on for the decline yesterday aftseculation for the decline yesterday aft-groom had anticipated something in the nature of a general stamped of liquida-tion when the developments at Washing-ton had been considered overnight. The country's stock market response today was a gratifying evidence of the stability of financial moods everywhere, matching the indications that business conditions and banking and market positions are fundamentally strong enough to cope with any conceivable contingency or event of the international difficulties now pending.

The market was loss active than on fedneaday, and the general price movement was irregular. There was more or so unsteadiness in the atternoon, as a sault of the decline in Studebaker. Insustrial alcohol and other specialties, and so tone was mervous all around, but perstent underlying firminess was exhibited a all the important quarters. Interest was practically confined to the sponse which Germany must make to be demands made by Washington to be demands made by Washington to be demands made by Washington to be eithmate success to place a somewhat wasten desponse which germany dispositions on the ultimate success to avert the threatened reach of relations over Germany's concert of submarine wartars.

Slight Concessions in Odd Lot Trading on Local Market-New York

Slight Concessions Here

The local stock list showed a disposi-tion yesterday to make slight concessions in odd lot trading, though selling pressure was not great and little activity resulted. Traction and Railway common were easier. Odd lots of Railway sold yes-terday at SI-14 and SI-18, as opposed to the last previous sale at SS. At close yesterday the best bid was SI, and stock offered in round lots at SI-14 went beg-ging. Railway preferred sold at SI and SI-18.

The Miser Is Afraid of Banks

T HE miser distrusts the honesty and integrity of all officials in general and bank officials in particular. He lives in fear for his life as well as for his money, and defeats his own aim to accumulate wealth rapidly.

Between the miser and the patron of a banking insti-tution runs a chasm deep, wide and impassable.

The depositor's dollars are safe, his life is not jeopard-ized and his money is working for him and all the while accumulating the power to take advantage of profitable investments or enterprises when they are offered.

tack by Traction Offical.

It is practically certain that the Public Utilities Commission will ignore the statement made by William F. Ham vice president of the Washington Bailway and Electric Company, before the House District Committee yesterday, to the effect that the company could not co-operate with the commission is its valuation work as long as Dr. E. W. Bemis is head of the valuation boreau.

Engineer Commissioner Charles W. Eutz. chairman of the commission, said after the hearing that Mr. Ham's statement was merely an explanation of with the commission of which work. Col. Kutz said the valuations will be completed before the end of June.
